Killing November by
Adriana Mather

At the international Academy Absconditi, classes range from knife throwing and poisons to the art of deception. And the students? All silver-spoon descendants of the world's most elite strategists-training to become assassins, spies, and master impersonators. November doesn't know how an ordinary girl like her fits into the school's complicated legacy. But when a student is murdered, she'll need to separate her enemies from her allies before the crime gets pinned on her . . . or she becomes the killer's next victim.
